HONORING MRS. SEAMAN

DISTINGUISHED ARTISTS AND AUTHORS ENTERTAINED IN HER HONOR BY E. H. WESTON

Mrs. John Seaman of Ohio, a former resident of Glendale, who has been the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Weston, is leaving Tuesday to return to her eastern home and family. She has been the guest of honor at several studio teas given by her brother to a distinguished company of artists and authors of Southern California including Paul Jordan Smith who at one of the teas gave a wonderfully interesting talk on Casanova, Mrs. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Pole, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnard, Frayne Williams, Mrs. Whipple, Miss Marguerite Mather, Miss Wilkes, Miss Ella Buchanan, Miss Claire Helen, Clarence McGehee, William Burton and Harold Miles. At one of the teas the guests were delightfully entertained by Mr. McGehee who is a famous interpreter of Japanese folk dances and who was tutor to the Crown Prince of Japan who is now the emperor.

Today Mrs. Seaman will be entertained at a luncheon and matinee party in Los Angeles by ladies who were her close friends and neighbors when she lived in the southern part of the city and when it was known as "Tropico."

Mrs. Seaman is negotiating the sale of her home on Central avenue near Los Feliz Road. She feels that the Seaman family is now permanently located in Middletown, Ohio, a city of twenty-five thousand population in which her husband is the only electrical engineer. As can be easily imagined, he is doing a thriving business. Mrs. Sellers, of Pasadena, entertained Mrs. Seaman at dinner Saturday night. Mrs. Sellers is Mr. Seaman's aunt.

SERVICE MEN'S DANCE

Those who attended the Service Men's dance Saturday night and they were a goodly company who comfortably filled the floor, report one of the jolliest parties of the season. It was quite informal for one thing, with few evening gowns to be seen and fewer full dress suits, also there were no dance programs, from which it will be seen it was a dance without frills for the joy of the dancing, but there was nothing niggardly about the music. The jazzmaniacs with their five pieces put plenty of pep into their performance and kept things moving at a lively pace in spite of the fact that the clock was turned back in jest and they gave an extra hour of service.

Jesse Flower headed the committee of arrangements, his associates being W. B. Kelley and Robert Plume.

Sixteen couples competed for honors in the prize one-step, and meantime the onlookers voted for those whom they considered were entitled to highest honors. Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Brown, Mrs. Dunn and Roy Clayton were the two couples who received the highest number of votes, and when each couple danced alone the popular verdict gave first place to Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

Following the dance candy was sold. When all the returns are in it is expected the proceeds will equal if not exceed $100.00 which will help some in the furnishing of the post headquarters.

BECOME GLENDALIANS

The group of Tennesseans who reached our city not long ago have lost no time in identifying themselves with the community. Mr. Alexander, uncle of G. E. Alexander, has bought at 117 West Acacia, where he will have congenial neighbors from his home state. The Harrisons have bought the Peterson place on Columbus avenue. The Stewarts are negotiating, but have not closed a purchase.

INFORMAL PARTY

MISSSES GLADYS SHARPE AND JANE ROBERTSON ENTERTAIN AT SHARPE RESIDENCE

Miss Gladys Sharpe and Miss Jane Robertson charmingly entertained a group of friends at the Sharpe home, 411 North Central avenue, Friday night, their guest list including: Mrs. John W. Sharpe, Mrs. Houston Jones and Misses Elsa Brenneeman, Erna Brenneeman, Marian Jones, Margaret Sharpe, Laura Wilford Brown, Louise Brown, Lorraine Mitchell, Barbara Mitchell, Edna Jones, Clara Midcalf, Frances Jackson, Vera Sinclair, Sallie Riley, Lulu Woodbridge, Anna Van Pelt, Harriet Van Pelt, Alta Lovell and Lucile Sparks. The ladies entertained themselves with dancing and card playing and dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the evening.

BIG QUESTIONS

ATTY. W. E. EVANS TELLS OF RESOLUTIONS PASSED AT RIVERSIDE, LEAGUE SENTIMENT

W. E. Evans, who returned recently from a trip to Portland and Seattle, says there is no change in the situation as regards action by the Railroad Commission on rates and tolls. Before the telephone lines were taken over by the government and came under the jurisdiction of Postmaster Burleson, the commission had an investigation under way with a view to equalizing rates throughout the state. Now that the Commission is again in control it has resumed these investigations and will compile data, and give individual hearings to communities which have asked to have their rates reviewed. Glendale is endeavoring to secure such a hearing.

In this connection Mr. Evans tells of action taken by the section of City Attorneys at the convention of the Municipal League of California held at Riverside last week. He and Mrs. Evans spent two days in that city attending the convention which adopted resolutions prepared by the City Attorneys' section concerning the attitude of the Railroad Commission in fixing rates.

There is general dissatisfaction in the state with The Railroad Commission, Mr. Evans says, and a belief that it is deliberately favoring the corporations and departing from the purpose for which it was organized, — to adjudicate justly between the corporations and the people to the end that the public may have a fair deal. Said he: "Before the present railroad commission was formed it was generally understood that the corporations of this state controlled public matters and the Southern Pacific and other corporations were in the saddle. This railroad commission was organized by the so-called 'Progressives' in this state and things went along favorably for two or three years. After Mr. Eschelman, the head of the commission died, a number of changes took place and it now seems that the present personnel of the Railroad Commission is very favorable to the corporations that once had control. This situation inspired considerable discussion and the convention felt that it should go on record as opposed to this policy on the part of the commission."

In speaking of his trip north Mr. Evans said: "At Seattle and Portland the chief topic of conversation was 'The League of Nations,' and whether or not it should be ratified in its present form. I was there several weeks after the President's tour and after Johnson had been there and it seemed to me the great majority were against the league in its present form. Senator Johnson seemed to have made a great impression and even those who were in favor of the league said that he had done more towards educating the people in regard to it than any other agency. After he had discussed it the people began to read and think for themselves. On the train just before going into Seattle we took a vote of the passengers and it stood three to one against the league. Many have accepted joyfully the prime idea of the league without taking into account the fact that by it the United States surrenders its sovereignty to a so-called group of nations."

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST NOTES

B. M. Emerson, while on his way by automobile from Glendale to Los Angeles to attend a meeting last Sabbath afternoon had his machine smashed into and its front demolished by a high-powered car which was being driven at a high rate of speed. Mr. Emerson was slowly turning around when the accident occurred and the on-coming car attempted to check its speed, but did not succeed in averting the crash. The driver came back to make inquiries and when Mr. Emerson, in response to questioning, declared he was not at fault inasmuch as his car was almost standing still, the aggressor put on speed and got away. An officer in citizen's clothes questioned him and got an address which is believed to be entirely fictitious, and also secured the number of the car. He then attempted to accompany the man and stood upon his running board, but the driver pushed him off. An effort is being made to trace the car and the driver. Mr. Emerson suffered no personal injury.

W. C. Raley, auditor of the Pacific Union Conference of the Adventists, is spending a few days in Oakland, checking the books of the California Conference and California Bible House, preparatory to the audit. He spent a few days at Phoenix, Ariz., (Continued on Page 3)

NEWSPAPER MAN IN TROUBLE

DELAVAN SMITH OF INDIANAPOLIS NEWS SWEARS HE IS SOLE OWNER—GOVERNMENT ALLEGES HE IS NOT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

INDIANAPOLIS, October 27.—Delavan Smith, publisher of the Indianapolis News, was arrested today under federal indictment, charging that he had sworn in his statement to the Postoffice department that he is the sole owner of the paper. The government alleges that Charles Warren Fairbanks owns a three-quarters interest in the paper.

SENATE DEFEATS JOHNSON AMENDMENT

VOTE STANDS 38 TO 40—JOHNSON INTRODUCES NEW AMENDMENT TO ACCOMPLISH SAME PURPOSE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 27.—The Senate today defeated the Johnson amendment to the peace treaty designed to give the United States six votes in the League of Nations. The vote was 38 to 40. It came unexpectedly when Senator Hitchcock attempted to have the hour of 1:30 this afternoon set for the vote.

"I cannot see any reason why we cannot vote right now," Senator Lodge answered. The roll was called immediately.

Senator Gore was the only democrat voting in favor of the amendment. The Republicans voting against it were: Colt, Edge, Keyes, Kellogg, McCumber, McNary, Nelson and Sterling.

Senator Johnson immediately introduced another amendment designed to accomplish the same purpose as the one defeated. The fact that several Senators were absent did not affect the vote as all were paired with men on the opposite side. After the vote was taken, several democrats, including Senator Phelan of California, entered the chamber and protested that they had been taken unawares and asked to make a statement of their position.

FINAL DECREE ON LAMAR CASE

SUPREME COURT CONFIRMS CONVICTION OF "WOLF OF WALL STREET" OF CONSPIRING WITH GERMANS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 27.—The Supreme Court today confirmed the conviction of David Lamar, "the wolf of Wall street" on charges of conspiracy to prevent the manufacture and shipment of war munitions. He was accused of conspiring with German agents during the war.

STRIKE SYMPATHIZERS RIOT

SCORES OF PERSONS INJURED AND LONGSHOREMEN PREVENTED FROM RETURNING TO WORK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, October 27.—Scores of persons were injured in a riot early today following a clash between two thousand strike sympathizers and several hundred longshoremen who were attempting to work on the Brooklyn pier. The riot occurred on the Bush terminal at Brooklyn. Clubs, stones and other missiles were used freely and a number of shots were fired. The police finally restored order and made ten arrests. Several hundred men later gathered around the north piers ready to go to work. Pickets in automobiles dashed from pier to pier urging the men to stay out and it is alleged that in some cases violence was threatened. The pickets succeeded in preventing the men from going to work.

CONSULAR AGENT RELEASED

WILLIAM O. JENKINS WHO WAS KIDNAPPED BY BANDITS AT PUEBLO, MEXICO, NOW FREE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 27.—An official message confirming an unofficial report that William O. Jenkins, American consular agent at Pueblo, Mexico, had been released by Mexican bandits who captured him, was received today. The message said that the $150,000 ransom had been paid, but did not indicate who paid it.

HANFORD, Cal., October 27.—John W. Jenkins, father of the American consular agent, Jenkins who was kidnapped in Mexico, received a private message from Pueblo, Mexico, today confirming the report of Jenkins' release and indicating that it was secured after the Carranza troops had resorted to force against the bandits.

MAYOR OF CANTON IN DISGRACE

CHARGED BY GOVERNOR COX WITH NEGLECT IN SUPPRESSING STEEL STRIKE RIOTS

CINCINNATI, October 27.—Governor Cox today charged Mayor Poorman of Canton with neglect in suppressing steel strike riots.

BATTLESHIP PARTY

MR. AND MRS. R. A. BLACKBURN AND SON ENTERTAINED ON BOARD U. S. S. MISSISSIPPI

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Blackburn and their son Robert were visitors on the U. S. S. "Mississippi" Sunday afternoon when Commander and Mrs. Blackburn entertained about twenty-five friends and relatives aboard ship. The party was conducted around the vessel and when the bugle sounded "colors" was taken to the deck to witness the impressive ceremony of the lowering of the colors when all the sailors stood at attention and saluted. Later tea was served in the officers' dining room at a table centered with dahlias very smart in all its appointments. Each guest was given a copy of the "Mississippi Bulletin," published on board, as a souvenir of the occasion. A special guest was the aged grandmother of the commander, Mrs. Pritchard, of Los Angeles, who immensely enjoyed the affair. The Glendale guests were brought home by Commander and Mrs. Blackburn in their touring car, stopping en route at their pleasant home in Los Angeles to see their pretty children.

COLSON—SULLIVAN

Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Colson of 416 West Burchett street have received the announcement of the marriage of their son, Harold Colson, to Miss Ouida Sullivan, of Portsmouth, Va. The bridegroom has recently been discharged from naval service in which he was stationed at the naval hospital at Portsmouth with the rank of Pharmacist Mate First Class. His bride is a talented musician and is at present soprano soloist at one of the large churches in Portsmouth. The young couple are planning to go to New York in the near future to study music as Mr. Colson has a good tenor voice which he is having trained.

VICTROLA STOLEN

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Tupper of 1401 East California were robbed last night by thieves who entered their home in their absence. They left at noon and returned about 8 p. m. They delayed in their garage about five minutes and when they went in found evidence that the house had been entered through a window which had been raised and the lock broken by a jimmy, the thieves making their exit through the front door. So far as they could discover nothing has been taken but a victrola and records and they imagine the burglars were disturbed by their return. Mrs. Tupper says she could identify the machine.

ROOSEVELT DAY

TODAY, ANNIVERSARY OF HIS BIRTH IN 1858, TO BE OBSERVED AS A MEMORIAL

Today is Roosevelt Memorial Day, October 27th, the anniversary of his natal day. At the Sunday evening service conducted by the new pastor, Rev. Marion Smith, in the Central Avenue Methodist Church, the preacher took for his theme Theodore Roosevelt, expressing the hope the church would be able to participate in the memorial in his honor to be established in New York and for which subscriptions are now being taken. He reviewed Roosevelt's ancestry and his life from his birth, October 27, 1858, to his death, January 6, 1919. When the message was sent around the world that America's great citizen and statesman had breathed his last Mr. Smith was on the deck of a destroyer on the Atlantic Coast and as the news spread around the ship a look of sorrow on every face testified he said to the universal sense of loss. The preacher referred to Roosevelt's handicap in childhood, occasioned by his ill health and showed how it became an advantage in that it developed in him a taste for study and reading which led him to richly store his mind with things which were of incalculable worth to him later on. It also stimulated his power of overcoming a power which triumphed over physical weakness and made of him a rugged man. He showed how in this process of becoming physically fit he came to the west and absorbed the western spirit and ideals which made him such a leader of men and so typical an American. He referred to his contributions to science in the books he wrote and in the collections brought home from his exploring and hunting expeditions in the wilds of Africa and South America, and then dwelt on his splendid record in the Cuban war. (Continued on Page 3)

"THE NEW ERA CHURCH"

DR. GUY W. WADSWORTH FILLS PULPIT IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Dr. Wadsworth opened his morning sermon by saying that he had been looking about the premises for the old church building he used to preach in years ago when Glendale was a promising young suburb, and the congregation was very small. He found at least a part of it.

Dr. Wadsworth has for many years been connected with Temperance work in this state but last year the Temperance Board loaned him to the New Era Movement and he has spent most of his time in Washington and Oregon.

He took as his text, "Who is she that looketh fair as the morning, clear as the sun," etc., and said in part:

"This picture is one of the Bride of Christ, the Church. The old Church did glorious work, but God permitted the World War to help man to see that God alone is great, and in order to fit this world for the kingdom of God. The New Era Church must be a very different church from that we used to know. The New Era Church must be a very beautiful church, the building, the service, the music, and above all else, the spirit; attractive and beautiful."

The next thought is that the New Era Church must be useful, "clear as the sun." What makes the sun useful? Two things, heat and light. They say that 1575 followed by twenty-four zeros is an estimated figure for the light of the sun. A church properly located cannot be hid. Superstition and ignorance should be done away with. We believe that the word of God is an infallible rule for faith and practice. We think for ourselves. No head of the church thinks for us. You cannot be orthodox and believe in Jesus Christ unless you apply your creed in everyday life.

"The church also stands for heat—generosity—warm heartedness. The church should never be cold. Each man and woman must do their quota. The last part of the text brings out the thought that such a church will be triumphant. We won't need to worry about our church if we make it the kind of a church Jesus Christ wants it to be."

PHILLIPS FAMILY MOVES

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Phillips, who for several years have resided at 514 East Harvard street, moved to Colgrove last week. The house they had been occupying belongs to Mr. Goss who wanted it for the use of his son and asked them to vacate. His son had just sold his own home. They have taken one at Colgrove from which it will be possible for their daughter Elizabeth to make the daily trip necessary to the Southern Branch of the University of California where she is librarian. Their daughter, Catherine Phillips, is teaching in the mountains beyond Victorville.

MRS. J. H. SMITH'S PARTY

ENTERTAINS SATURDAY AFTERNOON IN HONOR MRS. SEYMOUR G. SMITH

Mrs. J. Herbert Smith of 332 North Brand boulevard entertained Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Seymour G. Smith. She was assisted by Mrs. John G. Huntley and by her sister, Miss Charlotte Castle. Her home was beautifully decorated with French marigolds. The merry game of "Bunce" entertained the guests, the prizes being awarded to Misses Esther Schremp, Leola Webster, Gladys Justema, and Mrs. Gus Pulliam. At the close of the afternoon dainty refreshments were served. Following was the list of invited guests: Mesdames Noble Ripley, John Allen Legge, Aileen MacMullin, Joseph Feinstein, Merritt Brown, J. T. Beach, Gus Pulliam, Mrs. Chas. Wells, Mrs. Glenn Craig, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Misses Franc Kinch, Dorothy Hobbs, Lila Webster, Leola Webster, Myrtle Pulliam, Ernestine Lyons, Cecilia Lyons, Mary Logan, Grace Beach, Alice Gray Beach, Dorothy Lee, Anna Woodberry, Harriet Williams, Waunita Emery, Gladys Justema, Esther Schremp, Kathleen Dodge, Lila Shea, Carol Willisford, Margaret Lusby, Virginia Huntley, little Bettie Lee Brown, all of Glendale, and the following from Los Angeles: Mrs. Percy Clegg and Misses Gladys Truscott, Vesta Janes, Geneva Theall and Dorothy Theall.

UNION OF THE "MIDDLE CLASS" ELEMENT

In England the great bulk of the population segregates itself under the head of "middle class," and the same element is the predominant class in America, although we do not divide ourselves into definite classes of society. It is the element in ordinary comfortable circumstances, supplied with the needs of life, not reveling in luxuries, earning enough to live on, and generally a little more, but nevertheless without substantial property interests or savings, and close enough to need to feel the slightest weakening of earning capacity. It is this class that makes up the bulk of the population of the English-speaking countries; it is the buffer of all labor and capital disputes and compromises, bearing its burden patiently, the fixed and immovable element upon which the nations draw for their reserves of patriotism, and rely upon in all emergencies—a great potential, unorganized mass of burden-bearers who contrive to "keep sweet" and get along somehow in all contingencies.

However, patience seems to have reached the end of its string in England. Organized labor has contrived to keep within speaking distance of the rising costs through the leverage of its mass power, but the great unorganized "middle class" has had nothing but moral suasion to function with, and the results have not been pleasing. Hence, the great unorganized have organized as the "middle class union," unaffiliated with any other society on earth, and with general objects as follows:

"To promote mutual understanding between all classes of the community and secure an equitable distribution of national taxation. To obtain the removal of unfair burdens on the middle class, and to enable them, by collective action, to protect their interests from legislative or industrial oppression. To scrutinize and watch all legislation and administration and to secure suitable amendments of the law where the interests of the middle classes are unfairly prejudiced. To support, by legal action if necessary, the interests of any member which raise questions of general principle affecting the middle classes."

The middle class have but taken defensive action in getting together. Weapons of offense used by any one class lead to the ultimate arming of all other classes. When they are all organized and equipped to protect themselves it may occur to the intelligent that co-operation on the part of all classes would be more wholesome and effective in securing the common welfare, than organized antagonisms. Surely the day is coming when the United States will be united in name as well as in fact, and the welfare of the individual will be identified with the welfare of the whole mass of individuals. —Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

HEROISM IN PEACE SHOWS NOBILITY OF MAN

That peace hath her heroism no less than war has been demonstrated more than once recently, and it takes the edge off many a tragedy to reflect that with calamity in the loss of life and property the essential nobility of the human product is often brought to the surface.

Now the story of bravery on the part of hitherto unknown persons comes from the coast of Texas which was ravaged by a storm and tidal wave a few days ago. Among many other accounts of personal heroism from the catastrophe is the story of 17-year-old Esther Fuller, who is reported to have swam five miles across Nueces bay, towing and carrying the unconscious form of her 9-year-old brother. The home of Esther and her brother, Ted, had been destroyed by the storm and the two had been swept into the tidal wave after the boy had been hit and made unconscious by a piece of heavy timber. And Esther did not appear to be at all conscious of having done anything out of the ordinary when the rescue had been made.

"Why, what else should I have done?" she said. "I couldn't leave him to drown and go on alone could I?"

Aye, that's one thing that makes calamity fairly endurable and shoots a ray of light through the darkest storm. What a wonderful thing human nature is, after all!—Kansas City Star.

As the tale comes from Paris, the management of the Hotel Crillon, which housed the American peace delegates, added to its bill an item of $500,000 for "loss of clientele," and another of $250,000 for "loss of demoralization of staff by having accustomed them to receive wages above the ordinary standard." To which the American delegation, so it is said, replied by rendering a bill of $500,000 for "advertisement of hotel by making it the American headquarters," and $250,000 for "improvement of staff by teaching them American methods of work." Perhaps the story is too good to be true; but if it is correct one hopes, of course, that the Hotel Crillon is satisfied. —C. S. Monitor.

THEIR FIRST NEED IS EDUCATION

To those who are still trying to retain some faith in the future of Mexico the most depressing news that has come from that unhappy country in a long time, aside from the shocking stories of murders and outrages upon American citizens, concerns the closing of the public schools throughout the federal district. All municipal schools outside the City of Mexico have suspended because of lack of funds to pay the teachers.

For some time past there has been no public instruction in the rural districts of Mexico, but education seemed to be making its last stand in the cities and towns. Now even they have all practically surrendered. Evidently the recent glowing financial statement of the federal government put forth by Carranza's minister was not supported by actual cash on hand or else the powers in control think that education is one of the things that scarcely matter.

Widespread, deep-seated popular ignorance has been the curse of Mexico. It has been the root of most of her evils. In the days of Diaz the dictator found it easy to keep the people in subjection; in these later days the demagogue has little difficulty in bending them to his purpose. In Russia the elevation of the bolshevist rulers to power was made possible through the ignorance of the mass of the people.

A correspondent has recently related how under the bolshevist regime a bluff is being made at popular education. The children go to school twice a day, in certain localities, attracted by free meals. They receive absolutely no instruction. In other places the children have organized soviets and run the schools to suit themselves, with a maximum of holidays and recesses and a minimum of teaching.

What hope is there for countries where the rising generation is permitted to grow up in ignorance? The establishment of a real educational system in Mexico and Russia must be effected before they can throw off the yoke of anarchy and chaos, and we know of no way that schools are likely to be established in Mexico until American rifles have made it safe for American school teachers to cross the border, and the soldiers still have our permission to carry the flag clear to Panama.—Exchange.

Personals

James Farrell has sold his property at 1123 East Broadway and is looking for a new location.

Comrade U. H. Emick, who went east in September, has returned and attended the post and corps meeting Friday.

Mrs. C. H. Toll has gone to San Francisco as the representative of the Los Angeles Ebell Club. She is expected home Tuesday.

Mrs. Ralph Meeker had the pleasure of entertaining last week an old friend schoolmate who is now living in Mill Valley, Mrs. Murray.

At Dr. C. William Bachman's studio on East Windsor Road, the J. B. Company have been making comedies and next week a serial will start.

William Renshaw, a former resident of this city, is captain of the ball team of Throop Polytechnic College, which defeated the Whittier team last week.

A. N. Allis of 715 East Acacia St. has sold his bungalow grocery and gone to the beach for a rest and change before looking for a new location.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Franklin and Mrs. Mabel Franklin Ocker were guests Saturday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. Blake Franklin for tea at the Midwick Country Club, of which Mr. Blake Franklin is a member.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Trull, who have been residing at 236 North Belmont street, have established themselves as permanent residents of Glendale by the purchase of property at 800 South Maryland. They are moving today.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Henry of Arden avenue have returned from their northern trip in which they visited Pacific Grove, Big Basin and the Big Trees. Part of the time they camped and part of the time they were guests at hotels along the route. They had a very good time.

Mrs. A. J. Chappius of East Acacia is expected home this week with her parents and her little daughter Dorothy. They have been spending about two months in St. Louis, Mo., their old home, where Mrs. Chappius has two brothers and a sister. She had not visited there for fifteen years.

Mrs. Nell, who owns property on Stanley avenue and who has gone to Los Angeles to be near her husband who is in a hospital there, was fortunate in having an application for her house from parties who had just come to Glendale and who will probably be here for a number of months.

Elder F. E. Painter of Acacia avenue, this city, returned Sunday night from Fresno and other places where he has been visiting in Central California. He says he left Frisco Saturday night and was held up all night at Bakersfield by a wreck in Tunnel 12 on the S. P. The engine jumped the track and four or five cars piled up. From Bakersfield the passengers were brought to Tehachapi where they were delayed for about three hours and were then taken around the tunnel in big touring cars. He went north on Conference business.

HONOR FOR CAROL WILLISFORD

Miss Carol Willisford has been elected a member of the Honor Society of the Phi Beta Kappa, an organization found only in colleges of high standing there being but three chapters in California, viz., at Stanford, Berkeley and Pomona. Only students with a certain number of credits representing fine scholarship and interest in student activities are eligible. Usually these credits are not secured until the end of the senior year but in this instance Miss Willisford and four other members of her class had the necessary standing.

COMPLIMENTS THE NEWS

R. E. Wheeler reports the sale of the Colonial bungalow which he is building on Patterson avenue. As a medium for the sale of local real estate Mr. Wheeler says the News is a humdinger. He advertised the property in three issues of the News and was swamped with callers, resulting in an immediate sale. L. C. Rapp, of Glendale, is the purchaser.

One enthusiast at Santa Barbara yelled at King Albert of Belgium as he was passing, "There's the only king on earth that could be elected president of the United States." We doubt if Albert could carry Glendale, Eagle Rock and Pasadena just now, however.

A dispatch from Illinois says a cow was eating under a haystack when it fell on her and buried her, and she lived and ate her way out in fourteen days, without water. It will take us at least that long to swallow the story, even with water, and perhaps a little salt besides.

and his personal leadership in the battle of San Juan Hill which was the more impressive to Mr. Smith because he himself participated in the Cuban War and had inspected the steeps of San Juan up which Theodore Roosevelt led his rough riders to victory. He quoted the declaration of Rudyard Kipling that Roosevelt was the greatest proved American. Asking the question what was the cause of his success and what made him a leader of men, the preacher answered it by saying: "He was a great home man. When he was filling the Presidential chair in Washington he was never too busy or preoccupied to give a nod of recognition to people he met along the street. He was a teacher and he believed in God and in the power of the soul when stimulated by God. He taught it wherever he went. He taught the spirit of Christ and it was that spirit which led him to gather about him men of all classes to whom he had a special appeal because of his simple Christianity."

THE PACIFIC UNION

LARGEST SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CONFERENCE IN THE WORLD

The Pacific Union Conference of the Seventh-Day Adventists, which has its headquarters in Glendale, and which comprises in its territory four states, is the largest in the world, with a membership of 14,040, according to the quarterly report compiled by H. E. Rogers, of Washington, D. C., the statistician of the denomination. B. M. Emerson, the union conference secretary, has just received a copy of these statistics.

For a number of years the Lake Union Conference, composed of portions of the States of Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin, led the world in point of denominational membership, but about a year ago the Pacific Union Conference stepped into first place, and has been holding it. In per capita tithe paid, the Pacific Coast field ranks third among the various union conferences, and likewise stands third in the per capita mission offerings contributed for the second quarter of 1919.

One important item, indicating the growing interest of the public in Seventh-Day Adventist doctrines, was the large amount of book and periodical sales. These jumped to $531,103.15, a gain of $192,597.13 over the previous quarter.

Another name to add to the list of eminent authors of the country is Harris Contney, who was arrested at Calexico the other day charged with being the author of nine forged checks.

A Hemet-poultry raiser captured a coyote and tied a bell around its neck, to stop it from stealing his chickens. But the only difference it made was that the coyote now wakes him when it steals his chickens, whereas before he slept through it.

The girl students at Berkeley are all fussed up because one of the profs said there were twenty-five physically perfect men in the Freshman class. They want to know all the details.

Santa Ana celebrated her fiftieth anniversary the other day. We didn't know ladies ever told their ages when they were still that young.

recently, looking over the books of the Arizona Conference and tract society.

Prof. W. W. Ruble, secretary of the young people's department of the Adventists' Union Conference, left last week for Minnesota on business connected with his department. Before his return to California, he expects to visit churches and young people's societies in the Inter-Mountain Conference. He expects to arrive in Glendale in time for a convention of young people's officers to be held at the Pacific Union Conference office, November 12th to 16th.

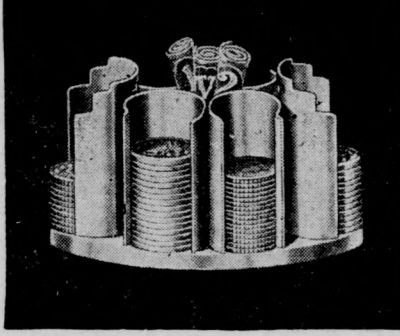

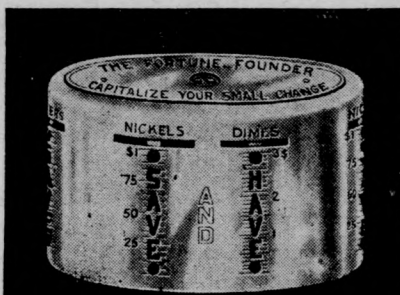

Elder W. F. Martin, representing the General Conference of the Seventh-Day Adventists, returned to Glendale last week from an extended tour of the field. He visited the camp-meetings of the Southwest and Central West, and attended the Fall Council of the General Conference committee.

Elder Guy Dail, secretary-treasurer of the European Division field, of the Seventh-Day Adventists, and Elder L. P. Tieche, of Paris, France, president of the Latin Union Conference, of that denomination, visited the Pacific Coast last week. Elder Dail spoke at the G-street Seventh-Day Adventist church in San Diego at the regular service last Saturday morning and at the White Memorial Adventist church, in Los Angeles, Saturday evening. Elder Tieche spoke at the young people's meeting in the Glendale Adventist church last Friday evening, and at the regular Saturday morning service. He told interestingly of the rapid growth of Adventist work in Europe in spite of the war. The Latin Union conference comprises France, Italy, Spain, Portugal, the French-speaking parts of Switzerland, and Algeria and Tunis. Elders Dail and Tieche came to America to attend the Fall Council of the General Conference committee of the Adventists, recently held at Boulder, Colo. They will return soon to their fields of labor.

Elder J. W. Christian returned early last week from Boulder, Colo., where he went to attend the Fall Council of the General Conference. While in Boulder he preached the graduating sermon of the 1919 class at the Boulder Sanitarium. On his return he visited the Inter-Mountain Academy at Rulison, Colo. He also visited Salt Lake City in the interest of church work in that part of the field.

Elder J. O. Corliss, of Escondido, formerly a Glendale resident, was a visitor at the union conference office in Glendale last week. In company with Mrs. Corliss he recently made a trip by automobile up the Coast, visiting Oakland, Mountain View and Fresno. Reaching Burbank, on the return trip, he met with a slight accident to his automobile, but neither he nor Mrs. Corliss were hurt.

PROHIBITION ACT UP TO PRESIDENT

IF HE DOES NOT VETO IT, IT WILL BECOME EFFECTIVE AT MIDNIGHT TOMORROW

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, October 27.—Armed with a copy of the war-time prohibition act and with Attorney General Gregory's opinion as to its constitutionality, Secretary Tumulty went to the president's room in the White House shortly before noon to confer with the president. An announcement of the president's decision is expected tonight. If he does not veto the bill it will become effective at midnight tomorrow and will stop the sale of two and three-quarters per cent beer.

Nora Bayes Couples "Jerry" with "In Miami"

The contrast between these two vivid songs on a single record gives Nora a chance to show her amazing versatility in character study. From an Irish brogue to a Southern drawl is a wide jump, but it's just a melodious skylark for Nora.

ROOSEVELT'S BIRTHDAY

In scores of communities today—the birthday of Theodore Roosevelt—exercises are being held to swell the fund to build a permanent memorial to the dead ex-President.

The movement fostered by the Roosevelt Memorial Association, has so gripped the American people that in every state in the Union branches have been organized among men and women of every race, political faith and station in life. While monuments, tablets, trees and public buildings will attest America's love for the versatile Colonel in nearly all the larger communities, the main efforts of the association will center in the purchase, development and perpetuation as a center of Americanization the Oyster Bay home of Colonel Roosevelt.

To finance the project, which will have as its prime object the instilling of Roosevelt's ideas and ideals of true Americanism into the hearts of young America, the memorial association is asking contributions to the fund. No definite amount has been set as a goal, the executive committee having ruled that "the association will be highly pleased with voluntary contributions of any amount."

During the campaign week, closing today, state branches whose leaders are men and women prominent in every political party, have had workers in the field. It was originally estimated $10,000,000 would be required to buy the Sagamore Hill property, the home of Roosevelt, and adjacent property to convert into a permanent park and playground.

Aiding the Permanent Roosevelt Memorial Association is the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial Association, which has as its object the purchase of No. 28 East Twenty-eighth Street, New York City, the house in which Colonel Roosevelt was born. Adjacent property to this house will also be bought, according to present plans, and the whole thing restored and perpetuated.

William Boyce Thompson, president of the Roosevelt Memorial Association, and Mrs. John Henry Hammond, head of the Women's Roosevelt Memorial Association, asked governors of various states to proclaim today Americanization Day in honor of the Colonel's memory. In several states public schools are holding exercises. In other states public memorial services were scheduled.

Exercises at Oyster Bay consisted of the raising of an American flag over Roosevelt's grave—the flag that was carried on foot by boy scouts in a month's relay from Buffalo, N. Y., where Roosevelt was inaugurated as President of the United States. School children attended carrying American flags, and placed flowers on the grave in Young's Memorial Cemetery.

ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL

NEW YORK, October 13.—President William Boyce Thompson of the Roosevelt Memorial Association had received many letters from prominent writers and editors endorsing the work of the Association in perpetuating the memory of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

Henry van Dyke, former United States Minister to the Netherlands, and famous as an author, writes:

Theodore Roosevelt can not possibly be forgotten in the history of the world. All the more reason why America should erect a worthy memorial of a man so memorable."

Robert Grant, Judge of the Probate Court of Boston, and well known as a novelist, writes:

"The purpose of the national Committee of his friends will best be realized if the funds be raised by contributions small or large from his millions of admirers throughout the Union. His greatness was of the dynamic order; he dwarfed us all by the ardor and reach of his enthusiasm, which kindled in behalf of national righteousness were in their highest moments irresistible, keeping us faithful to our ideals. Every inch a man, with all the attributes of stalwart manliness, he was instinct with the best of what we call Americanism,—that courage of conviction which stands fast for all it holds to be true, yet meets every man half way in the spirit of appreciation and human brotherhood. Even his faults were those of a temperament too like a mountain torrent not at times to overflow. He sought the votes of but never truckled to, the people of our Republic; so he stood first in their affections, for they were sure of his sincerity."

Edward Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, states:

"No man did more, in the last decade, to lift the moral standards of the American people, or waken them to their fullest responsibilities, than Theodore Roosevelt. We owe him, therefore, much; more, in reality, than we can ever repay. All that we can now do is to show our gratitude to him by entering, to the fullest of our ability, into the tribute planned for him. Nor should we be urged to do this; we should look upon it as a privilege gladly accepted and met. No contribution that we can make to any fund is so important as is this since it represents the core of the best Americanism, and anything that this generation can do to keep alive, for future generations, the name of Theodore Roosevelt and the clean, true type of Americanism that he stood for is clearly our duty."

Irvin S. Cobb, war correspondent and author:

"He could be wrong more often as a politician and right more often as an American than any man since Andy Jackson. He had vision to see what menace threatened us, long before the danger became apparent to most of the men of his generation. He had courage to beg his countrymen to prepare themselves against impending peril. To the struggle he gave himself and his sons, and he died for America as surely as though he had died on the field of battle with the uniform of a soldier on his back and a bullet through his breast. Through all the years of his life he served his land, and of his land Theodore Roosevelt deserves a memorial which shall speak to future ages of his valor, his work and his splendid Americanism."
